DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of the claims is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Kimura. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 2-11, 13-20, and 22-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 5, 17, and 25, it is not clear what the relationship of the "operational categories" is to the engine load. The claims should make it clear that the categories include engine load as a parameter. Furthermore, the independent claims are inaccurate; the configuration may not change between partial and full load depending on engine speed. Additionally, claims 10, 18, and 30 contradict claims 5, 17, and 25, respectively.

Claims 3, 4, 14, 23, and 24 are redundant.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2-8, 10, 13-19, 22-28, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kimura (JP 59-126028).

The figures show a tuning valve 5 responsive to speed and load (NOTE FIGURE 3). The valve being closed during high speed and load, and during low speed and load. The threshold speed

Ns is deemed inherently where efficiency is constant. There is a controller 10 responsive to sensors 11,12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11, 16, and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kimura as applied to claims 5, 17, and 25 above, and further in view of Rush (4549506), Wada (4793294), or Nomura et al (6722335). Kimura shows the tuning valve 5 being upstream of the two plenums 2. All of the secondary references show the tuning valve being located directly between the plenums; to do likewise in Kimura for a more compact arrangement would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9, 20 and 29 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
